Paid at 6:40 AM

receipt by 6:41

(n8n + Claude)

The Problem

6:40 AM. ₹2,999 paid.

A student pays for the November batch on Razorpay and asks for a GST receipt for her office. The coach is teaching till 9. The receipt finally gets made in Canva three nights later, with last month's date on it.

The Workflow

Razorpay Paid-In, Receipt-Out

Every box below is a node in the free workflow.

Step 1

Razorpay tells n8n the moment money lands

Razorpay calls your n8n webhook on every payment. n8n answers straight away, checks Razorpay's signature with your secret, keeps only captured payments, and drops any payment it has already handled.

Output · JSON

1 "event": "payment.captured",
2 "id": "pay_P8x2kQ...",
3 "amount": 299900,
4 "email": "ananya@...",
5 "notes": "Nov batch + GST bill pls"
6 signature: ✓ valid

Step 2

Clean the payment, load your products

Paise become rupees and the time becomes IST. Name, email, phone and notes are picked out. Your Products sheet, with HSN/SAC codes and GST rates, is loaded once and passed along as one list.

Google Sheets

Products

	Code	Product	Price	GST
1	MB-NOV	Morning batch (Nov)	₹2,999	18%
2	EB-NOV	Evening batch (Nov)	₹2,499	18%
3	PT-5	5 private sessions	₹6,000	18%

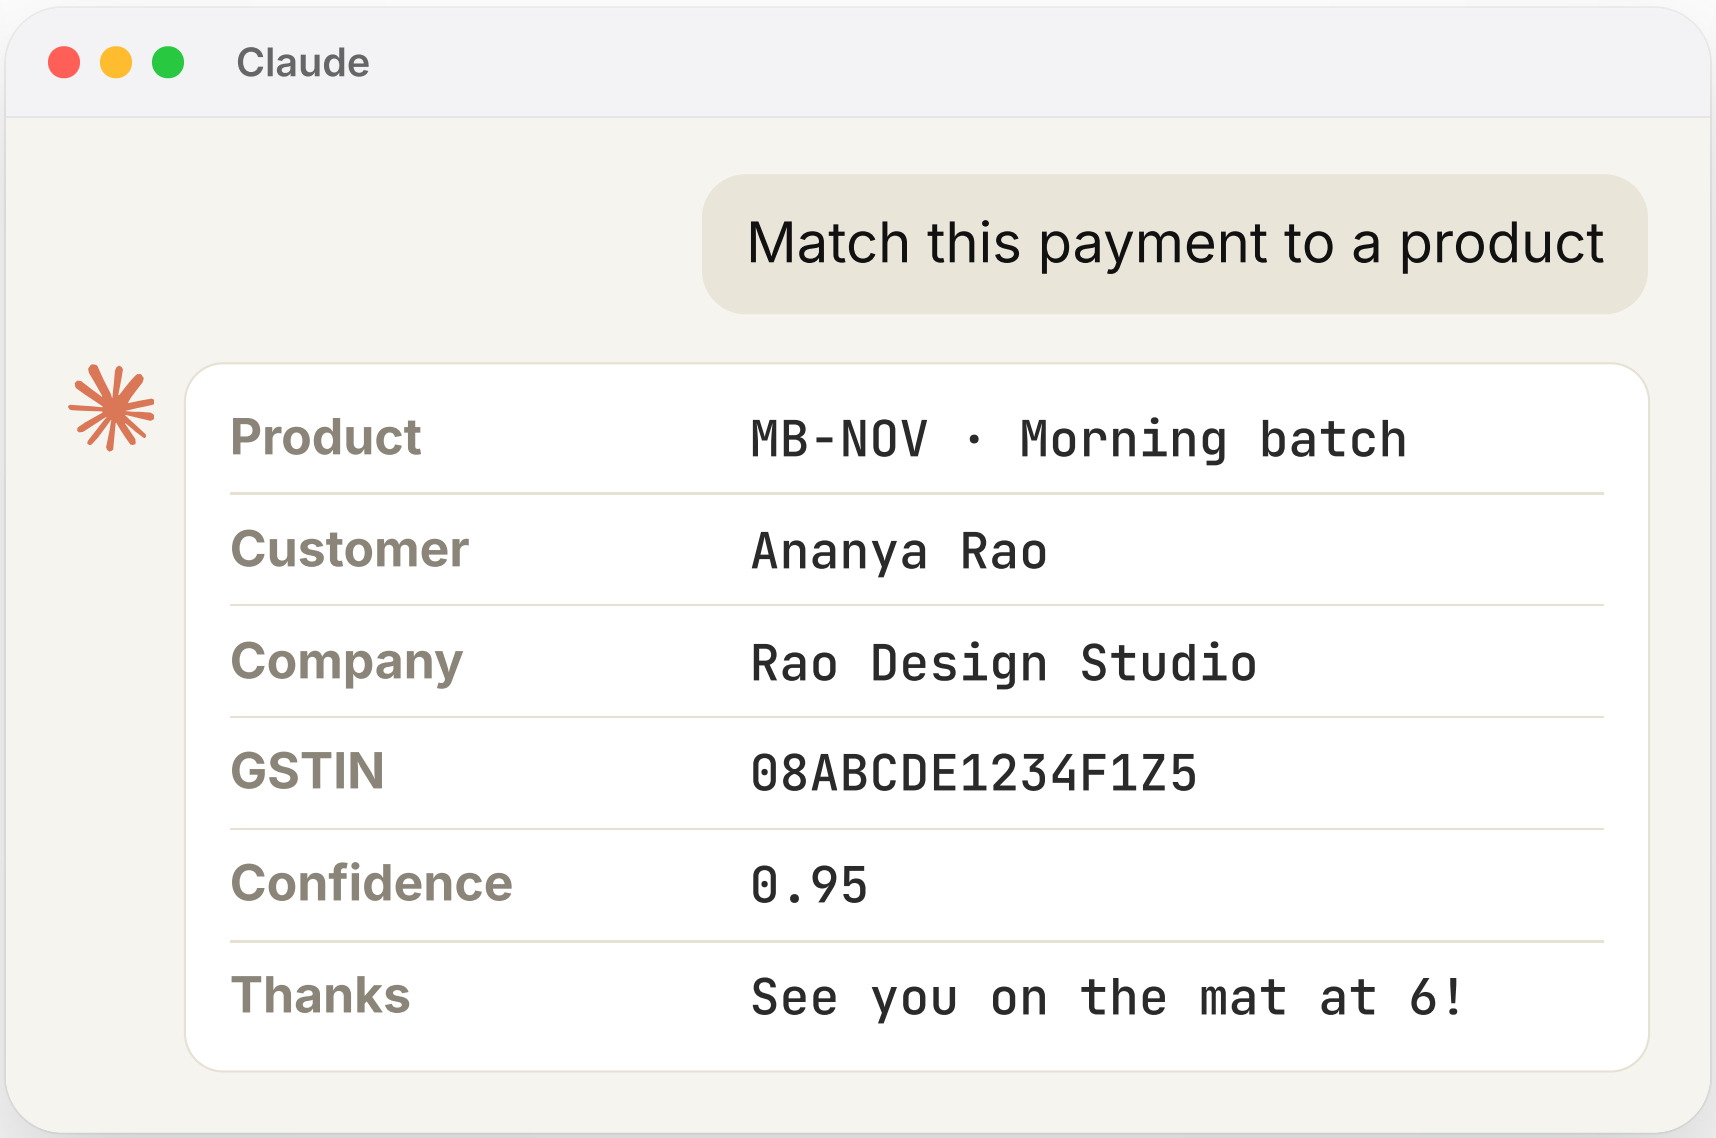

N8N NODES

- Normalise payment
- Load price list
- Price list as one item

Step 3

Claude matches it to the right product

Razorpay notes are messy, like 'Nov batch + GST bill pls'. Claude matches the payment to one product in your sheet, picks out a company name and GSTIN only if the buyer typed one, and writes a one-line thank-you.

it never touches the tax

Step 4

GST by formula, a check only when unsure n8n, not Claude, does the tax maths from your rate: taxable value, CGST plus SGST or IGST, and the next receipt number. If the product didn't match, the GSTIN looks wrong or the amount isn't a list price, you check it in Slack first.

Step 5

Receipt made, logged and sent

A copy of your Google Docs receipt template is filled in and saved to Drive. The row goes to your Accounts sheet first, then the PDF goes by email and the customer gets a WhatsApp thank-you. If a send fails, you get an alert.

books first, then the send

N8N NODES

- Copy receipt template
- Fill receipt
- Log to accounts sheet
- Download as PDF
- Email receipt
- WhatsApp thank-you
- Alert owner

What Changes

Before and after the workflow

BEFORE

- Receipts made late at night
- Wrong dates, missing GSTIN
- Payments missing from books

AFTER

- Receipt within a minute
- GST maths done by formula
- Every payment in the sheet

STAYS HUMAN

Claude never calculates tax. Anything unclear waits for your tap in Slack before a receipt goes out.
