They cut prices you knew at 7AM (n8n + Claude)

The Problem

Friday night. ₹899 became ₹699.

Your competitor drops the price of the same 1L steel bottle on Friday night and adds free engraving. You find out on Tuesday, after a slow weekend, because a customer sends you their link.

The Workflow

Competitor Price Watch

Every box below is a node in the free workflow.

Step 1

Your watchlist, every morning

At 7 AM n8n reads your Watchlist sheet: competitor, product, page link, your price, and yesterday's price and offer. Paused rows are skipped, and pages are checked one at a time.

Google Sheets

Watchlist

	Competitor	Product	Ours	Their last
1	SteelSip	1L steel bottle	₹799	₹899
2	HydroKart	1L steel bottle	₹799	₹849
3	SteelSip	750ml flask	₹1,099	₹1,149
4	BottleBay	Kids bottle	₹549	₹599

N8N NODES

Every day at 7 AM

Read watchlist

Active rows only

One page at a time

Step 2

Fetch each page politely

Each public product page is fetched once, like a normal browser visit. Scripts and menus are stripped, and only the text around prices, offers and stock is kept. A page that fails is noted, not hammered.

- [x] One page at a time
- [x] Once a day, like a normal visit
- [x] Scripts, menus, footers stripped
- [x] Only text near ₹, MRP, offer, stock
- [x] Broken link? Noted in the sheet

Step 3

Claude reads price and offer

Claude reads the trimmed text and returns the selling price, MRP, any offer or coupon, and stock. If it lands on the wrong product or a captcha, it says so instead of guessing. n8n then compares with yesterday.

Step 4

Every check is saved

Today's price, offer and stock go back into the Watchlist, and every check is added to a Price history tab. After a month you can see exactly when each competitor runs sales.

Google Sheets

Price history

	Date	Who	Price	Change
1	06 Nov	SteelSip	₹899	no
2	07 Nov	SteelSip	₹899	no
3	08 Nov	SteelSip	₹699	-22%, engraving
4	08 Nov	HydroKart	₹849	no

Step 5

One message at 7 AM

Only the changes are collected. Claude writes one short morning summary: who changed what, and where they are now cheaper than you. It goes to Slack, or by email if Slack fails. Quiet days stay quiet.

N8N NODES

- Changes only
- Combine changes
- Write morning summary
- Post morning summary
- Email summary instead

What Changes

Before and after the workflow

BEFORE

- Found out from a customer
- Checking 12 tabs by hand
- No record of past sales

AFTER

- Changes in Slack by 7 AM
- Only what changed, in one message
- A price history to study

STAYS HUMAN

Nothing on your store changes automatically. The summary only informs you, and you decide.
