The Problem

Found out from the bank app

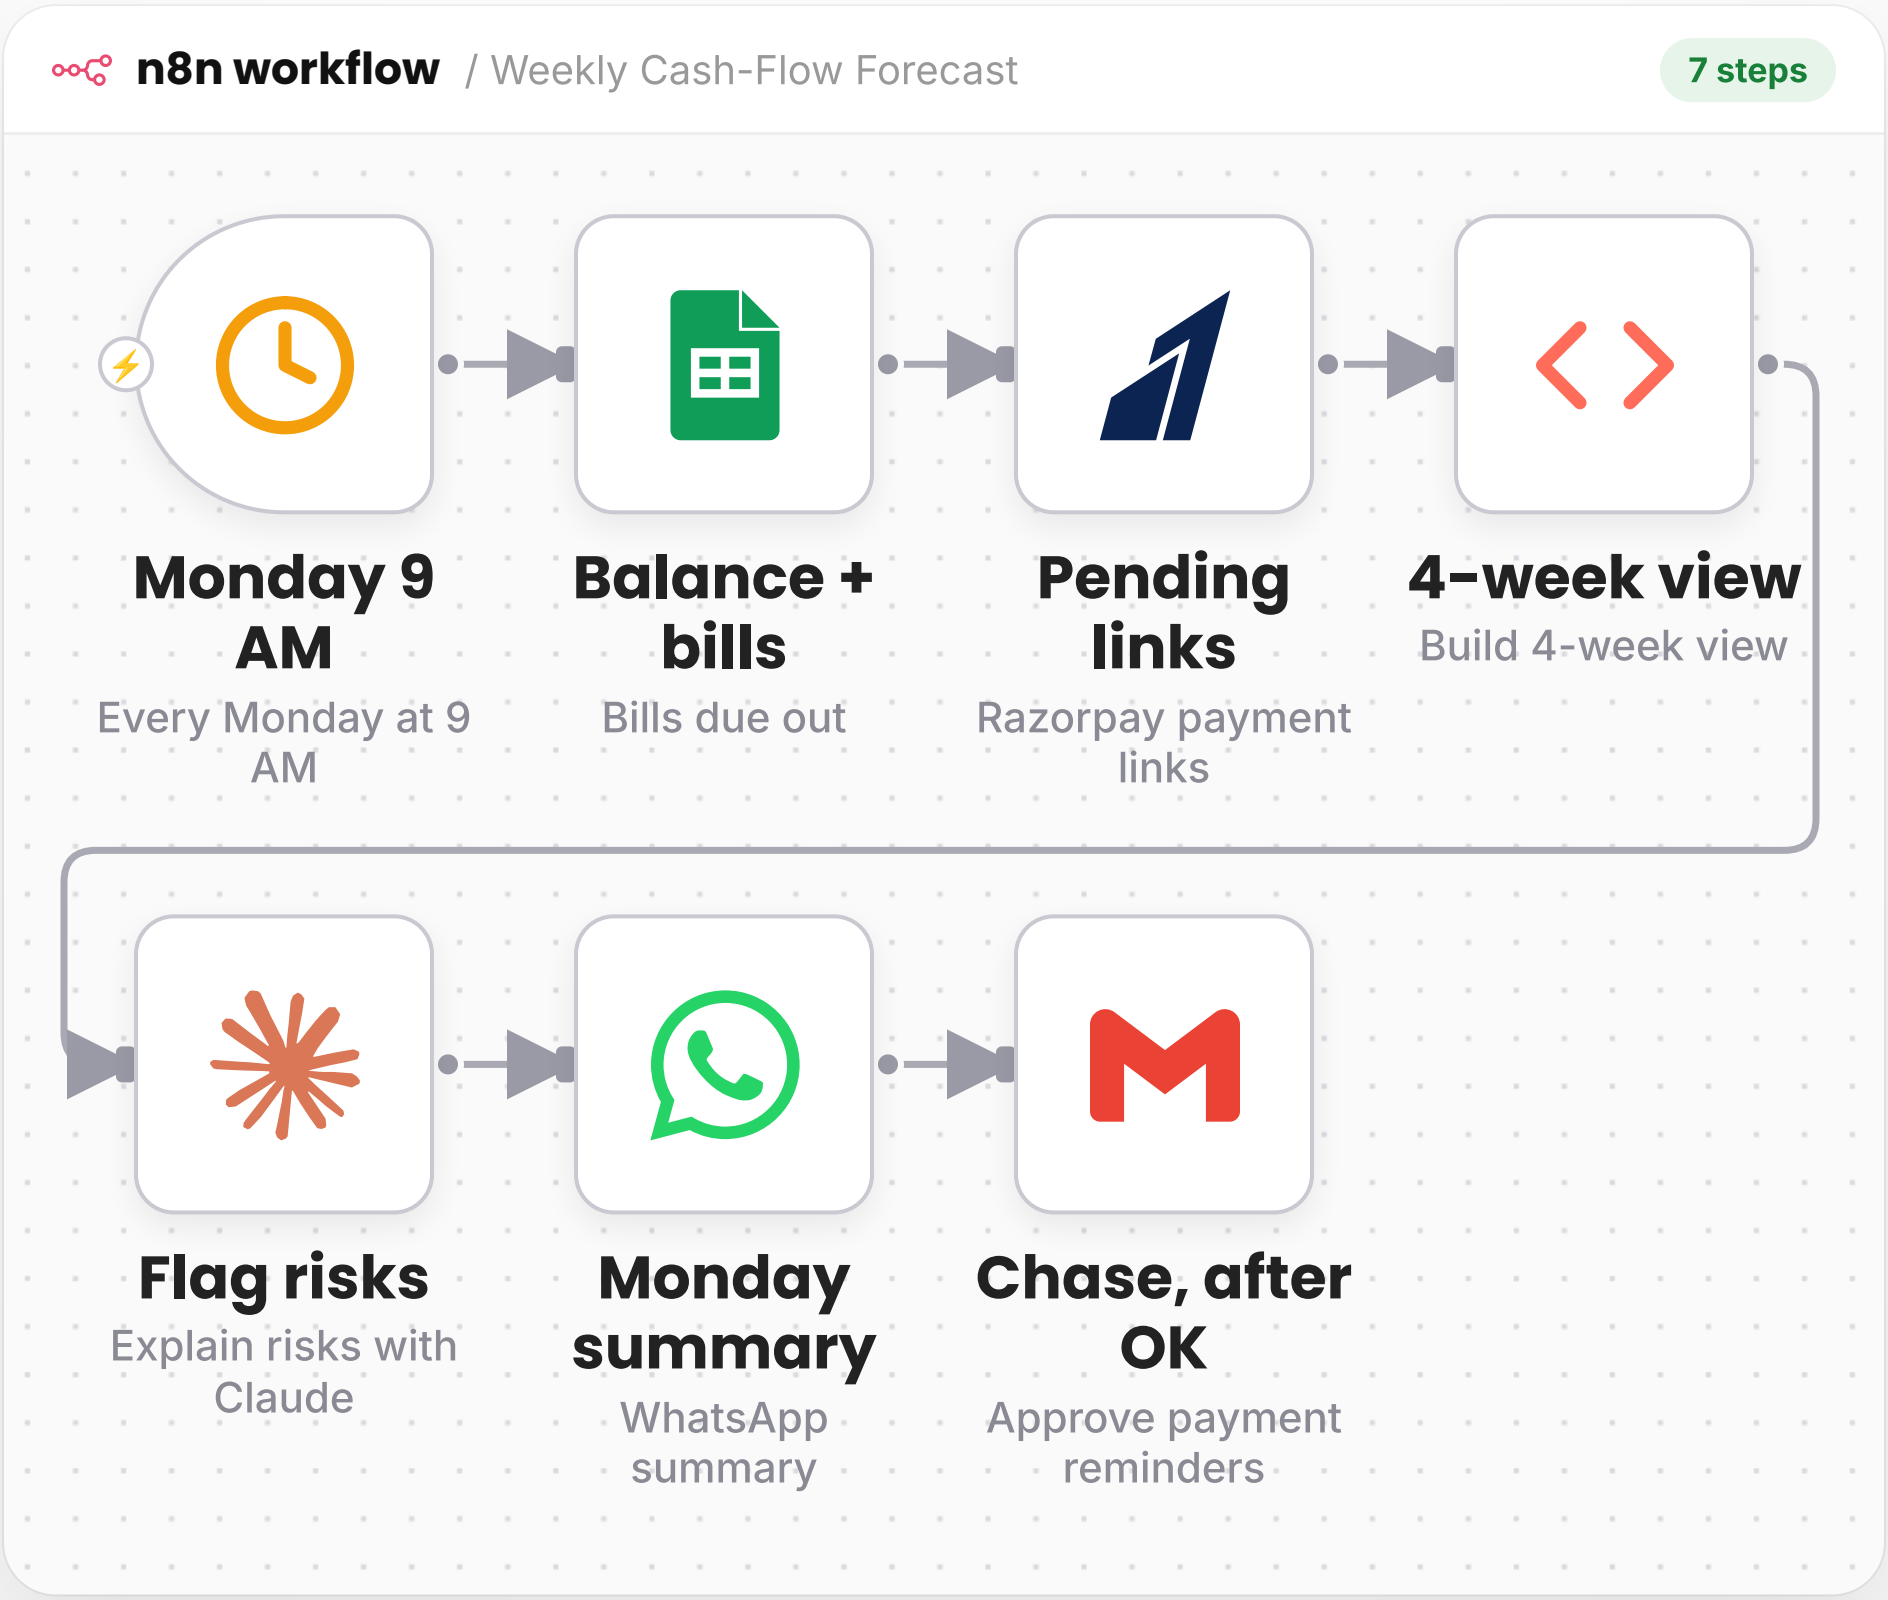

Friday, 6 PM. Salaries go out on the 1st. A big customer payment, due two weeks ago, has not come. GST is due on the 20th. The owner finds out from the bank app, with two days to fix it.

The Workflow

Weekly Cash-Flow Forecast

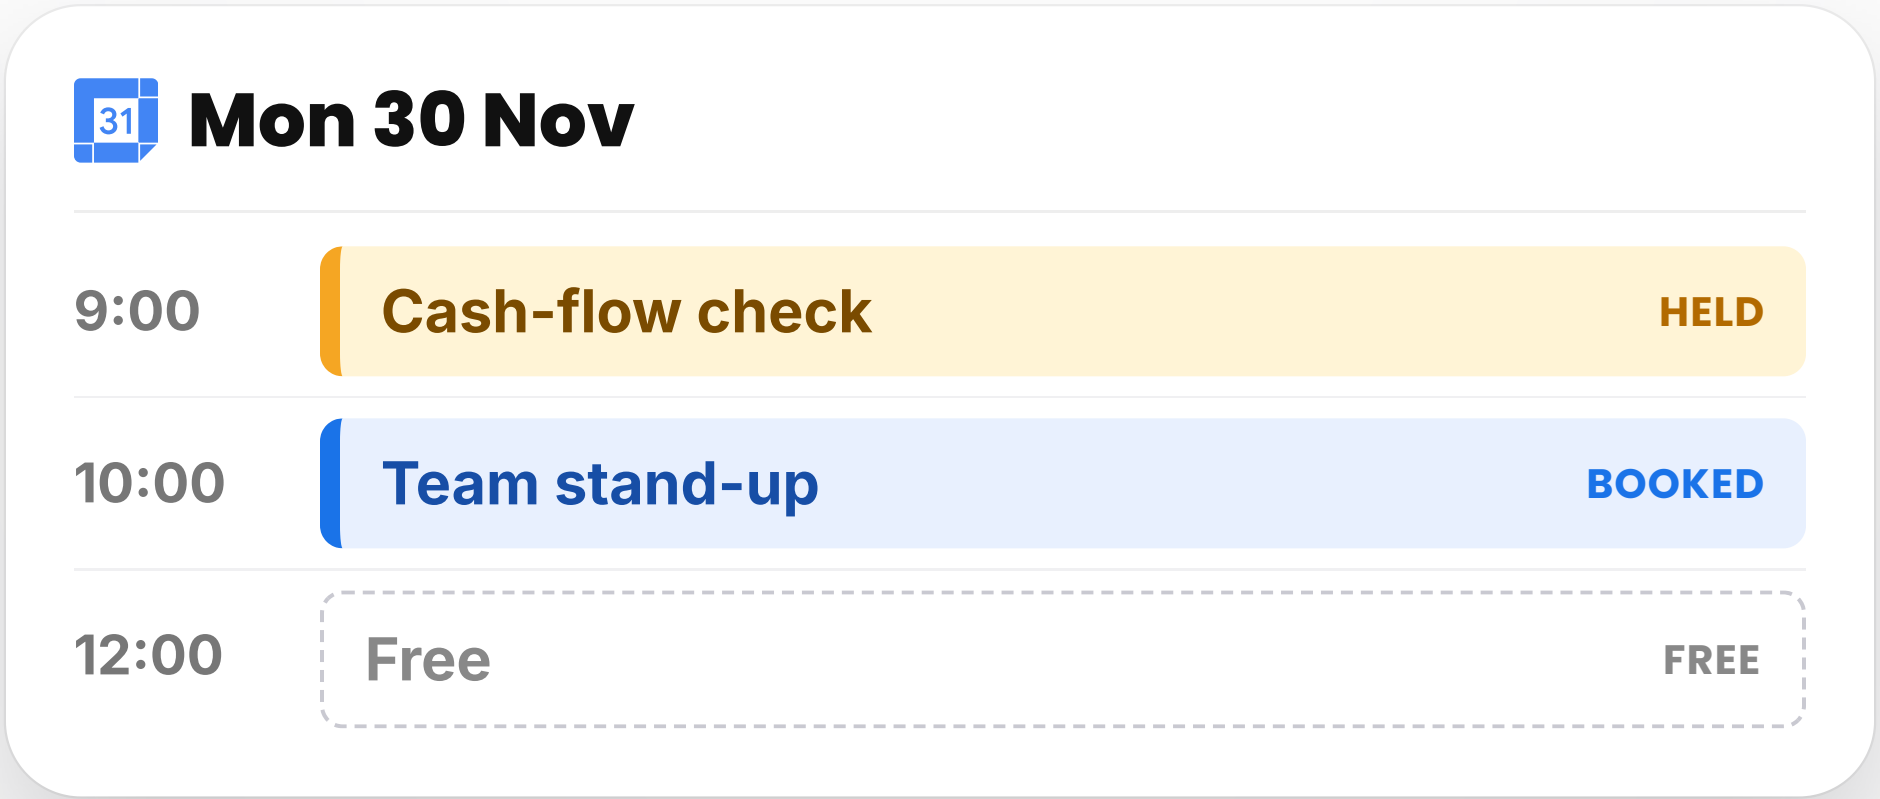

Every box below is a node in the free workflow.

Step 1

Every Monday, one run

Every Monday at 9 AM the check starts. A guard makes sure it runs only once a week, even if someone clicks run again.

N8N NODES

Already ran this week?

Step 2

Money in, money out, balance

n8n reads your latest bank balance, unpaid customer invoices and upcoming bills from Google Sheets, plus unpaid Razorpay payment links. Salary, rent and EMIs repeat every month automatically.

Google Sheets

Bills due out

	Bill	Due	Amount	Repeats
1	Salaries	1st	₹6.2 L	monthly
2	Office rent	5th	₹85,000	monthly
3	GSTR-3B payment	20 Dec	₹1.1 L
4	Packaging supplier	9 Dec	₹64,000

N8N NODES

- Bank balance
- Money due in
- Bills due out
- Razorpay payment links

Step 3

The 4-week view, in code

A code step spreads every amount into the next 4 weeks and works out the closing balance each week. Overdue invoices are flagged, not trusted. Every number is calculated here, never by AI.

Step 4

Claude flags the risks

Claude reads the numbers and explains them in plain words: which week is tight, why, and what you could do. You get a short WhatsApp and the full table by email.

Step 5

Chase overdue, after your OK
