Automate Your Social Media

a content team that never sleeps

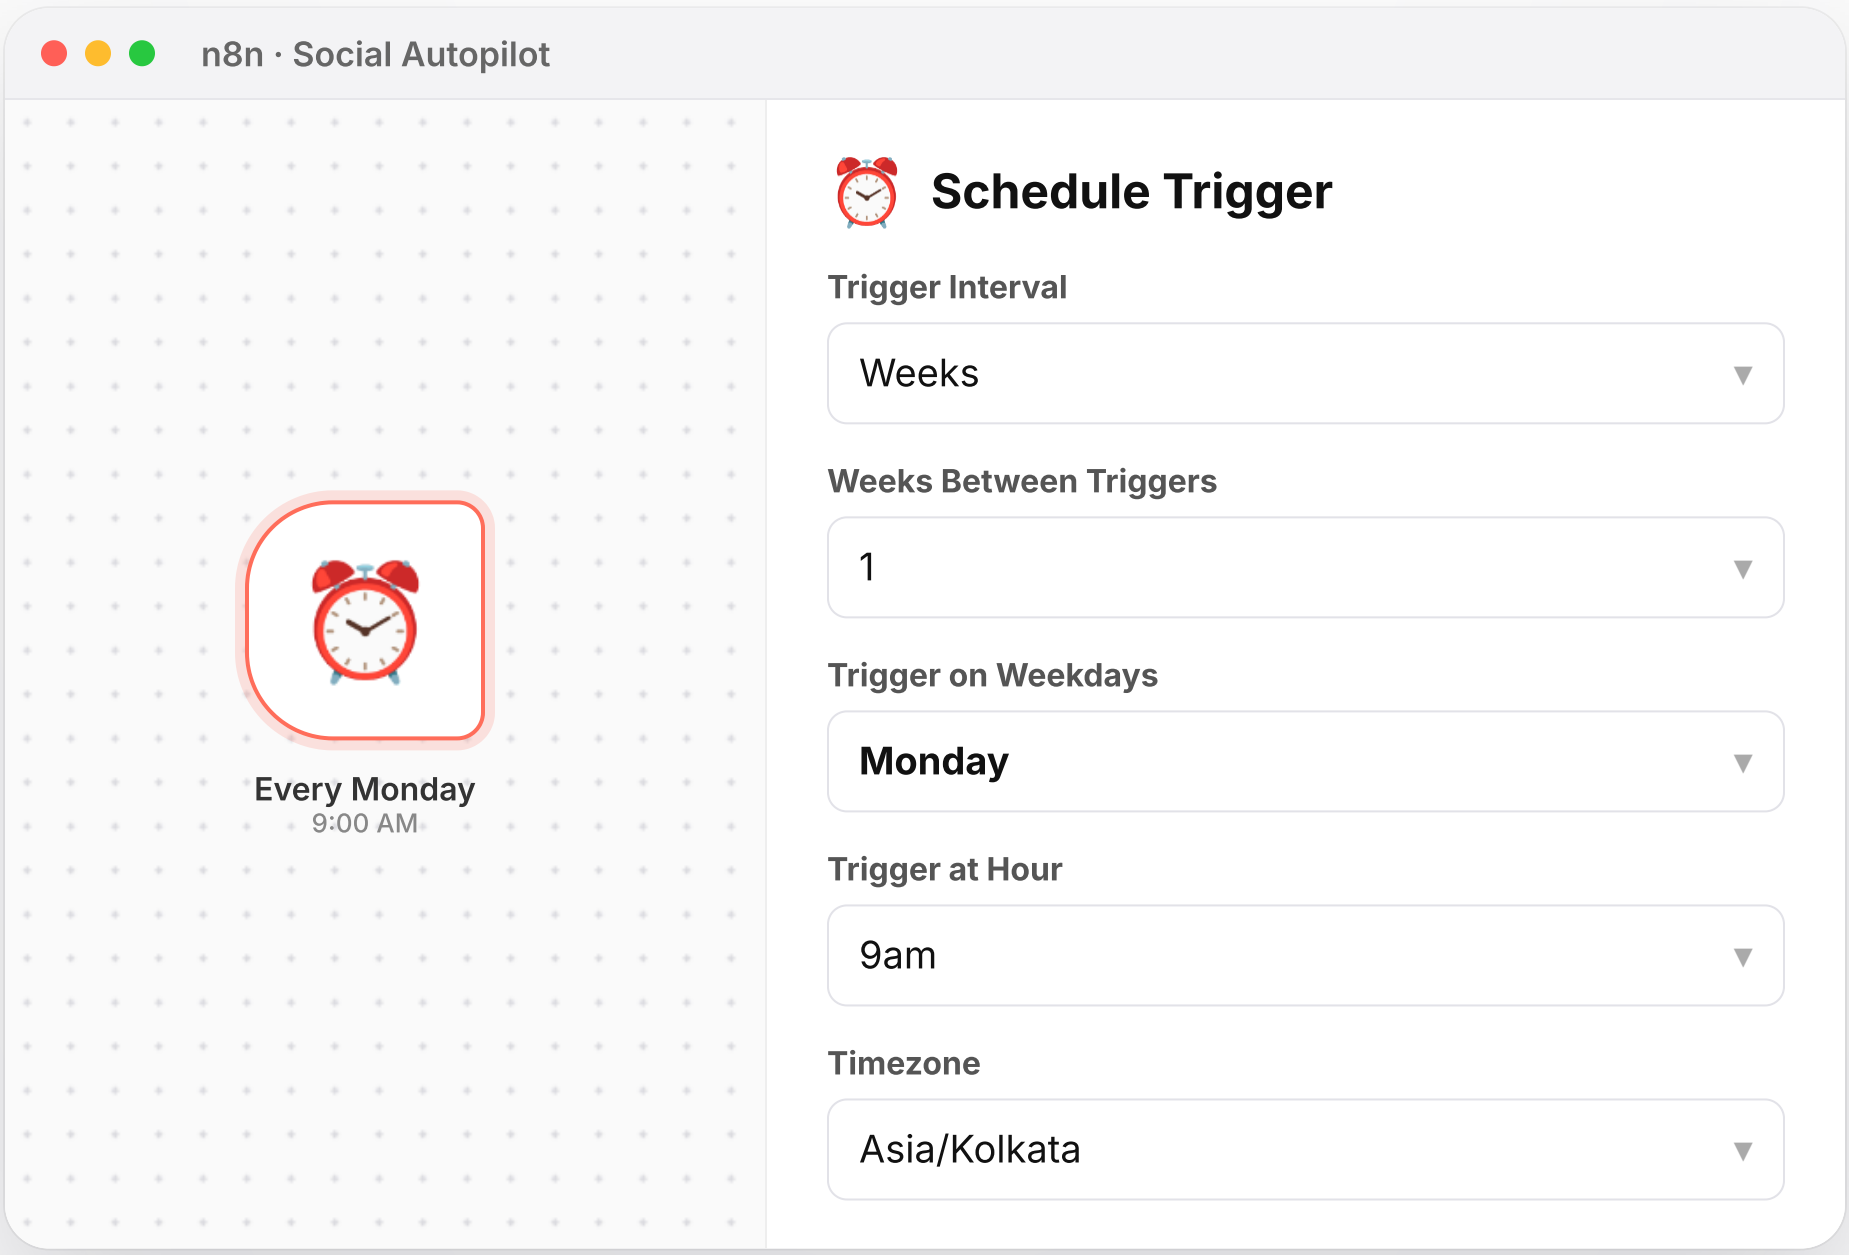

Research → write → design → schedule.
Claude + n8n + Buffer do it every week. You just approve.

Step 1

Set a Weekly Trigger

In n8n, add a Schedule Trigger. Every Monday at 9 AM the whole system runs.

set it once, forget it

Step 2

Claude Researches Trending Topics

The AI Agent scans your niche and returns what people are talking about this week.

your niche, not generic

Claude

Find 5 trending topics in AI automation for small business owners this week.

Here are this week's top topics for small-business automation:

1. AI agents replacing manual inbox work
2. WhatsApp automation for local shops
3. n8n vs Zapier: real cost for small teams
4. Automating invoice follow-ups
5. Claude + n8n for content workflows

Ranked by search interest + discussion this week.

Step 3

Claude Writes Posts for Every Platform

Same idea, written natively: long on LinkedIn, punchy on X, visual on Instagram.

LinkedIn Draft

Most small teams aren't short on people.
They're short on hours.

Step 4

Turn Posts Into Visuals

n8n sends each post to your Canva brand template.
Headlines drop in automatically.

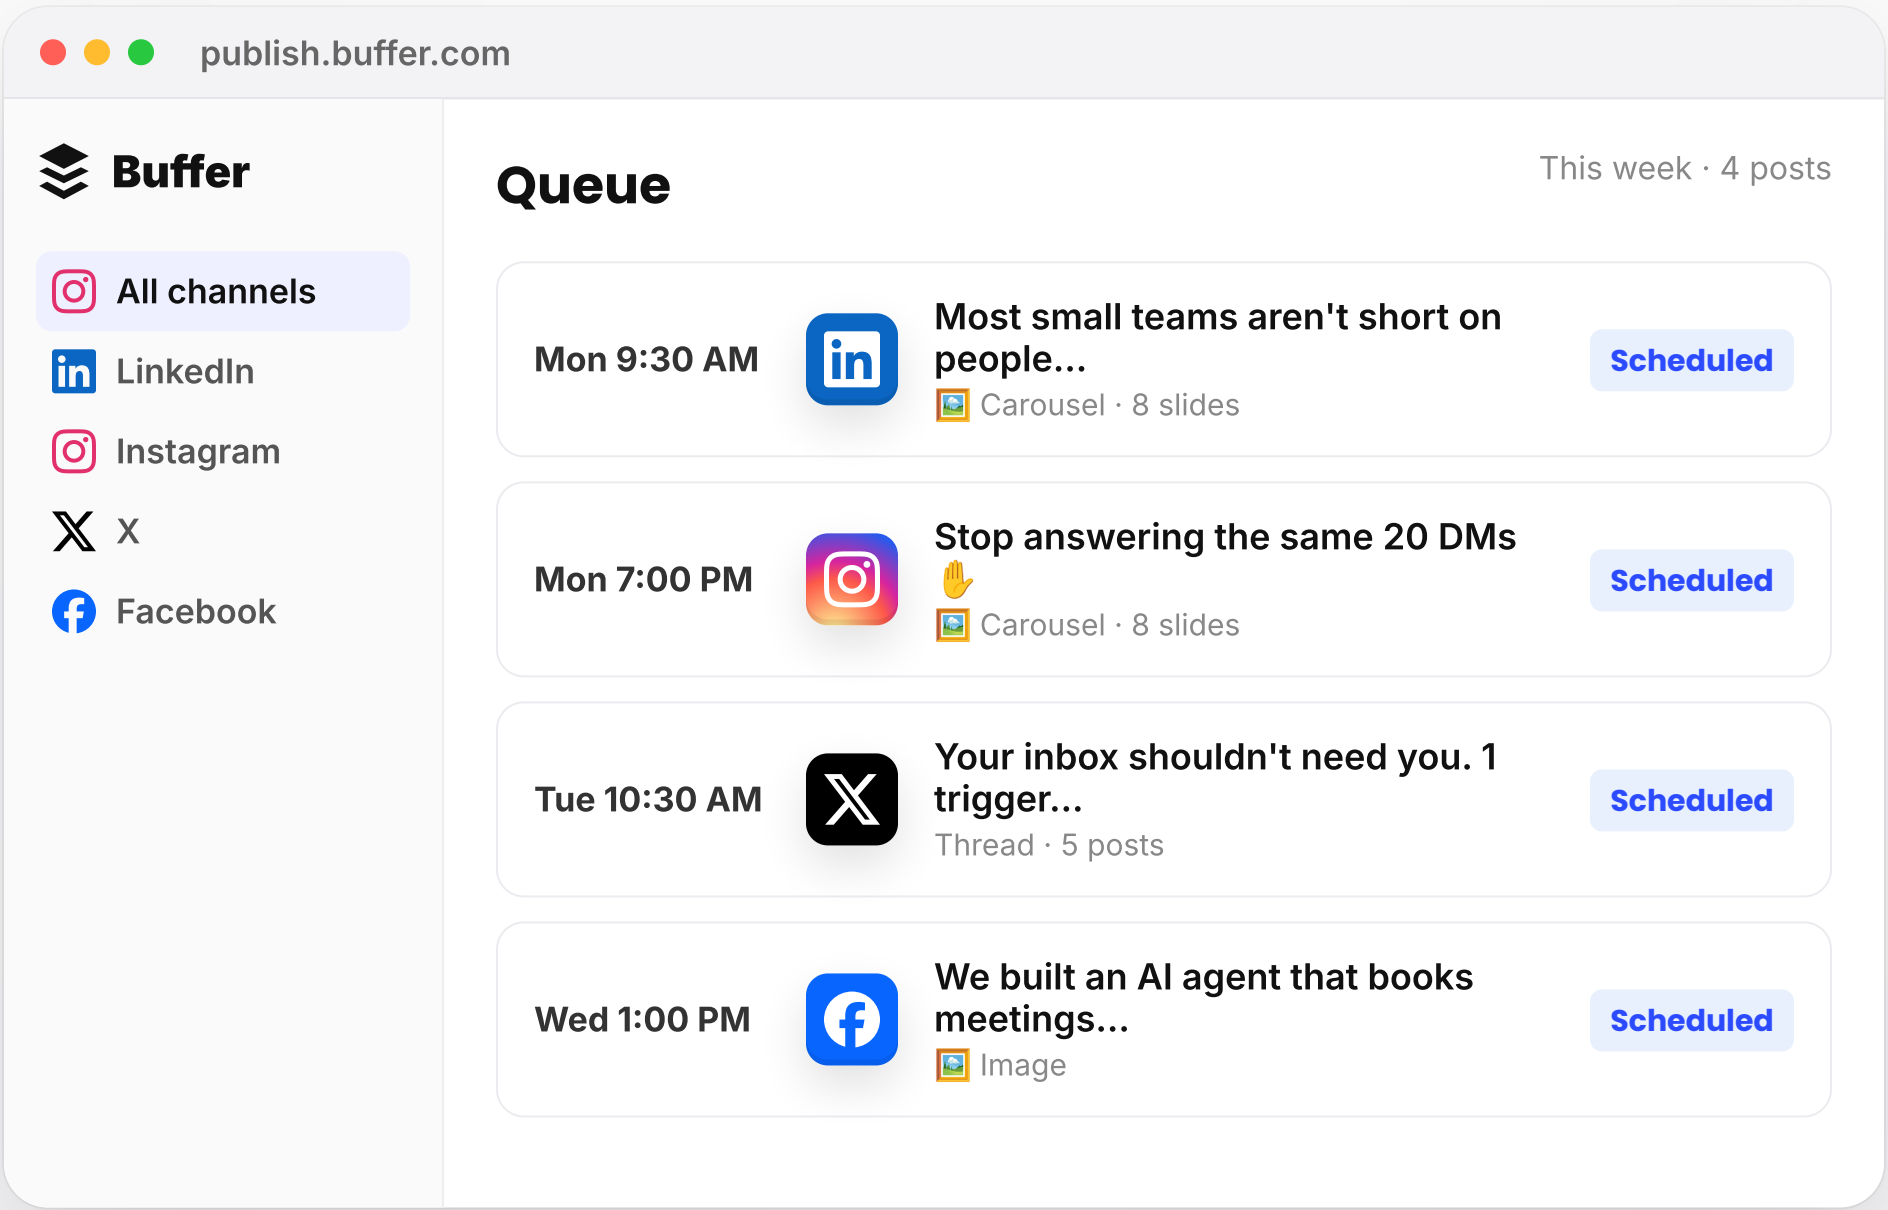

always on-brand

Step 5

Schedule It All in Buffer

Approved posts go straight into your Buffer queue at the best time for each platform.

you approve, Buffer publishes ✓

Step 6

Track & Improve

Every Friday, Claude reads the numbers and adjusts next week's plan for you.
